

Bringing Your Dog to South America Checklist

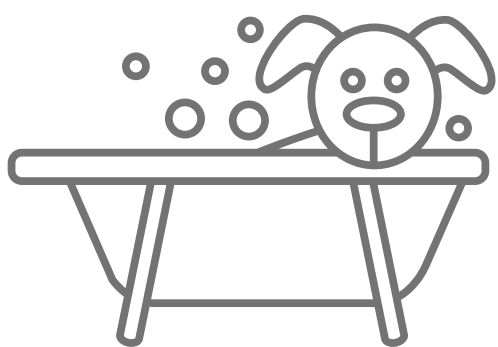

Make sure your pup is in good health before you travel.

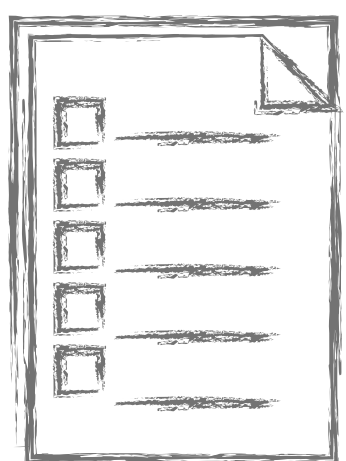

Visit the veterinarian for an updated checkup, to get a clean bill of health and get a copy of your dog's health and vaccination records.

Check, check, and double check! Be sure to regularly visit the APHIS website and look into the specific requirements for your destination country and whether any of these requirements have recently changed.

Be sure that your dog is groomed and bathed before you travel.

Keep copies of all necessary documents and keep them on hand for arrival your destination

Budget extra money for any unexpected expenses that may arise during this process.
